Kevin Durant has accomplished an amazing feat, making history as the first player to achieve two consecutive 50-point games. The best shooting all-star in NBA history...Lebron James, was left speechless after Kevin Durant scored 51 points...distracting him from his game and letting the Warriors march on to victory. Kevin Durant's tweet announcing that he is staying with Oklahoma City for another 9 years shows that he cares for not just himself but the team as well. Come next year, Oklahoma City will be home to one of the most powerful duos ever formed - Russell Westbrook and Kevin Durant. Driving hard on the heels of Kevin Durant, who is known for not only his skill but also his work ethic. Kevin Durant's signature shoes are finally available! Anyone can wear the KD7, which is officially called "The Decision." It has all the best features of Kevin Durant's shoe...the 11-panel design, midfoot strap and heel counter...but these features can be found in many other shoes currently available! Kevin Durant's furious comeback attempt was short-lived. Not able to get back to his feet after suffering a sickening crossover, the young Thunder star was forced to leave the court with what looked like an ankle injury. He did not return to play in overtime period. With Kevin Durant injured, the Thunder were forced to put on their B-squad against the Clippers. Without their star player, it was an uphill battle that the Thunder would eventually lose. There is no timetable for Durant's return at this time. With Kevin Durant still out of action, the Thunder are struggling to find offense. This has led to more playing time for Serge Ibaka who has had a lot of success on both sides of the floor lately with many dubbing him as one of the best center's in basketball. With Kevin Durant still out of the line-up, the Thunder are in a state of disarray. In desperation they have turned to James Harden who has been asked to fill in for Durant in the starting line up. So far Harden has been doing a pretty good job but he still remains a poor substitute to Durant's talent. Kevin Durant's season ended in an OT thriller against Lebron James and the Miami Heat. Durant was unable to play in the dying minutes of the game as he was carried off the court by teammates after injuring his ankle. The Thunder would go on to lose the game and with it, their chance at another title Kevin Durant's MVP speech
